

Earth Day Handprint Art For Kids

Not only does this activity make a beautiful art work in the end, but it's a great sensory activity that uses only a few supplies.

You can let your kids work together on one artwork (if they are ok with it), or make each child's hand print a different color.

What you'll need

- Paint
- Paper Plates

Steps

1. Add blue paint to a paper plate
2. Add green paint to a paper plate
3. Give each child a clean paper plate and tell them to decorate it with blue and green handprints

Kids will learn about:
